FORAKER EXPLAINED

Disposes of Story Published in Toledo Times.

IT IS GROSSLY MISLEADING

Such is the Claim of the Ohio Senator. He Says There Has Been No Trouble Between Himself and Judge Taft As Published in the Press.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 4.—Toledo Times prints a story declaring that Senator Foraker Wednesday declared that there had been no peace compact between himself and Secretary Taft, that President Roosevelt had adopted the policies of Mr. Bryan, and that as between the two he preferred the genuine to the imitation. Other statements credited by the paper to Senator Foraker are that he was deliberately insulted because he did not receive an invitation to participate in the opening of the Ohio campaign at Youngstown on Sept. 5, and that the only difference between the Democrats and Republicans was that the Republicans favored tariff revision after March 4, and the Democrats favored immediate revision.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 4.—In an explanatory statement, which was a comprehensive denial, Senator Foraker has disposed of a story published in the Toledo Times, giving what purported to be an authorized statement with him. As soon as he reached his home the substance of the story was repeated to him and the senator at once made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"Grossly Misleading."

"The statement published in the Toledo Times as you report it to me is grossly misleading. The only basis for any such statement that I can recall is this: As I was leaving the hotel to take the train for Cincinnati, a gentleman introduced himself to me and told me he represented the Toledo Times and that the Associated Press was sending out a long story—some 2,000 words, as I now remember his statement—giving an account of an agreement that had been entered into as a basis of peace between Judge Taft and myself, and he wanted me to give him my version of the matter.

No Agreement of Any Kind.

"I told him there had been no agreement of any kind, neither made nor suggested; that there was no trouble between Taft and myself; that the trouble so much talked about in the newspapers was manufactured; that I had not made, at any time, any request of Judge Taft and he had not made any of me; that we had met on the reviewing stand at the public meeting which we both addressed; that our conversation on the reviewing stand was only social and that which would be naturally suggested by the character of the occasion; that at the public meeting we had no private conversation and what we had said at the public meeting spoke for itself—that is all there was of it. I bid him good evening and went to the train.

"I wish there could be some way found to stop the publishing of these mischievous reports."

Tragedy at LaGrange.

LaGrange, Ga., Sept. 4.—Mr. Geo. A. Rivers, who was shot Tuesday afternoon while seated on his front porch, by Dr. J. M. Elliott, a veterinary surgeon, died from the effects of his injuries Wednesday. Mr. Rivers was one of the best known citizens of LaGrange, quiet and unostentatious in his manner, and there is great regret that he should have been killed.

May Give Up the Struggle.

Paris, Sept. 4.—A morning newspaper prints an interview with Sidi El Khil, Moroccan minister of foreign affairs, in which he declares that after reflection and consultation with his ministers, A.M. El Khil has decided to give up the struggle, although he has not yet decided whether he will relinquish the throne or formally abdicate.

$20,000 FOR RELIEF.

That Amount Has Been Subscribed for Augusta Flood Sufferers.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 4.—The relief fund has reached approximately $20,000. Accurate figures cannot be given out because the money is coming into several places and a compilation has not yet been made. The temporary dams in the canal have been completed sufficiently to permit partial resumption of the pumps at the water works and from this time six million gallons daily will be pumped into the reservoirs where it will be settled and filtered in the ordinary manner. This will mean its use again for drinking.

There is a great scarcity of laundry. The washerwomen were unable to work last week and there is a panic among them now because some one has circulated a report that a fine would be imposed on any one using the water for laundering purposes.

The city officials and the street railway have looked horns over the North Augusta bridge, both desiring the other to stand the expense of replacing the approaches which are entirely washed away. The bridge was built originally by the railway interests but was afterward turned over to the city on condition that the latter kept it in repair. "The contract contained the proviso that in event of the destruction from providential cause the city could not be compelled to rebuild it." Here lies the bone of contention that has the citizens so deeply stirred. It is the burning question and is being more talked about than any other phase of the flood situation.

Captain Huggett of the war department announces that he will supply clothing and food for 1,000 persons.

GEN. STEWART'S FUNERAL.

Late War Veteran Buried at St. Louis With Military Honors.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—The funeral of Alexander P. Stewart, late lieutenant general in the confederate army, who died at Biloxi, Miss., Sunday, was held Thursday afternoon at the home of his son, A. C. Stewart. The services were military in character and the rites at Bellefontaine cemetery, where interment took place, were in charge of the United Confederate Veterans.

The services at the residence were attended by the United Confederate Veterans, the Sons of Veterans and the St. Louis branch of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Rev. Dr. Russell, of Pittsburg, who was an intimate friend of the general, officiated. The active pallbearers were chosen from the Sons of Veterans and several of the honorary pallbearers were members of General Stewart's headquarters escort during the civil war.

Many prominent ex-confederates from other cities were in St. Louis to take part in the funeral.

TRAGEDY AT SENECA, S. C.

Jealousy Caused Former Policeman to Kill Woman and Himself.

Seneca, S. C., Sept. 4.—Wednesday John F. Henkel, formerly a policeman, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Emma Anderson, keeper of a boarding house here, and then shot himself in the head, dying instantly. The shooting is said to have been prompted by jealousy. Henkel had been trying to get Mrs. Anderson to marry him and she refused.

Mrs. Anderson is the widow of the late John Anderson, formerly of Belton. She had been living in Seneca for several years, and was well thought of. She has a son, Thomas Anderson, living at Belton. Mrs. Anderson was shot twice, the first shot taking effect in the ribs, and the second shot in the breast. Henkel was a widower with several children.

Sharp Fighting at Tabriz.

Tabriz, Sept. 4.—Sharp fighting opened again Wednesday around the barricades, but the revolutionary forces appeared to be less confident than formerly, owing to the financial difficulties and reports that gained currency of the growing strength of Ais Te Dowleh's forces. There is some fear that the Caucasian mercenaries in the royalist forces will attack the consulates in order to provoke European intervention.

IS FINED $5,000,000

Final Award Made in Famous Venezuelan Litigation.

ON TRIAL FOR THREE YEARS

Judgment Delivered in the Sensational Case of the French Cable Company. Complicity in the Matos Revolution Episode.

Caracas, Monday, Aug. 24.—After more than three years of legal procedure the civil court of first instance of Caracas has delivered judgment in the sensational case of the French Cable company. The company has been found guilty of complicity in the Matos revolution of 1903 and fined five million dollars. Other damages also are to be assessed against it. The trial has been even more startling than that against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company, which also resulted in a $5,000,000 fine, because it has reached far beyond the high officials of the cable company in Paris. The evidence mentions in an alleged compromising way even such names as that of M. Delcasse, minister for foreign affairs of France at the time of the revolution. It is Venezuela's claim that the French government itself extended support to General Matos, and M. Quevieux, French vice consul at Caracas, was compromised by the documentary evidence which fell into President Castro's hands that he committed suicide in Paris rather than face the disgrace of charges from his government.

On Trial Three Years.

The revolutionary suit, as it was called, was brought on July 19, 1905, and was based on a great mass of documentary evidence consisting of part of the archives of the cable office at Caracas, which President Castro had secured from a treacherous employee of the company. These documents, which were mostly copies of the messages sent over the lines, are alleged by the attorney general in his complaint to prove that General Matos, after visiting the directors of the company in Paris, was offered every aid by them in furthering his revolution; that the Venezuelan manager, Fernand Jallabert, was instructed from Paris to furnish every aid to Matos; that as a consequence the operators in Venezuela placed themselves under the orders of M. Quevieux, who was the agent of the revolution in Caracas; that the cable employees were all revolutionary spies; that they secretly transmitted news to the revolutionists regarding the movements of the government troops; that the contents of government messages were communicated to third persons and to foreign powers, and that the company used all its power to disseminate abroad exaggerated news aimed at discrediting the Castro government.

Much Damage Resulted.

President Castro's action in closing up the cable offices without providing for any other telegraphic communication with the exterior has been disastrous to commercial interests in Venezuela.

Several attempts have been made to establish wireless communication and to get other cable companies to come in, but all have been unsuccessful.

Believed Vessel Is Lost.

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—The bark Auburndale, which sailed from Turk's Island five weeks ago for this port, is missing, and it is feared the vessel went down off Cape Hatteras during the West Indian hurricane last month. The schooner Republic, which left Turk's Island nineteen days after the Auburndale sailed, has arrived here. The Auburndale was loaded with a cargo of salt. Captain E. B. Haskell was in command. Under him was a crew of eight men and a stewardess.

$100 for Augusta Sufferers.

Columbus, Ga., Sept. 4.—The Columbus city council has appropriated $100 for the aid of the Augusta flood sufferers. The relief committee put in a steady day's work soliciting contributions.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

"Skiddoo" Bill Adopted by Senate in Amended Form.

Atlanta, Sept. 4.—The state senate Wednesday, by a vote of 33 to 10, every member except the presiding officer voting, passed the bill facetiously termed the "Skiddoo" bill, being the compromise measure fattered by twenty-three members of the upper house.

The measure, as finally adopted, was a considerably amended, revised and altered version of the substitute for the Felder bill originally presented.

It lost in the course of its passage to enactment the original provision for an income tax on all classes of salaries and wages. This provision had aroused a perfect storm of protest which caused its original advocates to seek cover.

Its provision to create a prison board in place of the present prison commission, was also dropped by the whyside.

This bill will go to the house of representatives and must be read on three separate days before it can be taken up for consideration. It might have been adopted as a substitute for the Holder bill, which has already passed the house, but by a parliamentary device Senator Felder succeeded in getting it through as the independent expression of the senate.

The further provisions of the senate bill are those creating a new official in the prison department, a state road commissioner, at a salary of $2,500 a year and traveling expenses. In addition to the state farm of 400 acres in Baldwin county, additional farms are to be purchased and superintendents at salaries of $1,200 are to be employed as needed. Prison commissioners are to give their entire time to the work, and no state official is to have any profit from the management or hire of convicts. The prison commission is given supervisory control over misdemeanor convicts, and a ban is put upon the hiring of misdemeanor convicts by county authorities. A parole system is established.

By a unanimous vote, the senate adopted the house substitute for the Adams juvenile court bill.

FARMERS' CONVENTION.

Charles Barrett, of Georgia, Is Re-elected President.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 4.—At the convention Wednesday of the National Farmer's Union President Barrett was re-elected without opposition, amid scenes of tremendous enthusiasm. Following his speech of acceptance, the convention was temporarily converted into a love feast.

Other officers were elected as follows:

J. E. Montgomery, Tennessee, vice president; R. H. McCulloch, of Arkansas, secretary-treasurer; directors, W. A. Morris, Alabama; T. M. Jeffords, Oklahoma; L. N. McCollister, Louisiana.

The report of Secretary-Treasurer McCulloch and the national board of directors showed the membership of the union to be 3,000,000, while fourteen state organizations were formed last year.

Fall Maneuvers Opened.

Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—The fall maneuvers of the department of the Lakes, U. S. A., opened Thursday. Eight regiments of the Ohio National Guard have arrived to go into a camp of instruction for ten days with the regulars. The federal troops consist of the Tenth regiment, stationed here, one battalion of the Twenty-seventh infantry, one battalion of the Twenty-eighth, one squadron of the Thirteenth cavalry and hospital and signal corps. The federal troops will be succeeded September 19 by the National Guard of Illinois, Indiana and West Virginia and on Sept. 30 these troops will give place to the National Guard of Kentucky, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Back From the Old World.

New York, Sept. 4.—Nearly 1,000 cabin passengers arrived here from Europe on the White Star liner Adriatic, among them being J. Pierpont Morgan. Other well known passengers were United States Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge and Maxine Elliott.

2 KILLED, 4 INJURED

Fatal Collision of Electric Car With Carriage.

TWO OTHERS LIKELY TO DIE

Crash Occurred About Six Miles from Ottawa, Ill., Where Highway Crosses Electric Line—Sharp Curve Prevented Driver from Seeing Danger.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A dispatch to the Inter-Ocean from Ottawa, Ill., says:

Two persons were killed, two fatally hurt, and three seriously injured near here Wednesday night when an electric car on the Illinois Valley railway struck a carriage in which were seated Walter Snell, a wealthy farmer, and a party of six persons.

The dead:

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Snell, twelve years old.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Snell, eight years old.

Fatally injured: Mrs. Mamie Townsend and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Snell, fifteen years old.

Seriously injured: Mr. and Mrs. Snell, and son of Mrs. Townsend, eight years old.

The crash occurred at a point where the road crosses the electric line about six miles from Ottawa.

The road was not well lighted and near the crossing there is a sharp curve which prevented Mr. Snell, who was driving, from seeing the approach of a car. The carriage was directly in the center of the track when the car, coming at top speed, crashed into it.

All the occupants of the carriage were thrown far from the track and the carriage was completely wrecked. The horses were also thrown away from the track. The car was not damaged, and none of the passengers was injured.

TRIP WAS KEPT SECRET.

New York Officials Toured Italy to Study Black Hand System.

New York, Sept. 4.—After making a study with the aid of the Italian government of the Black Hand system in that country, District Attorney Clarke, of Kings county, and Francis L. Carrao, his assistant, have arrived home. Their itinerary through Italy was kept secret, on advice of Brooklyn officials, because of the possibility of harm from Italian criminals.

Carrao learned on his arrival that a mass meeting of Italians would be held in Brooklyn to denounce him and demand his resignation. He was told that his fellow countrymen in Brooklyn were indignant over his written criticism concerning corrupt practices in the Italian judiciary.

FATAL PLEASURE TRIP.

Young Man and His Sweetheart Drown While Boating.

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 4.—While boating Tuesday night on Okemuncie Lake, three miles from Tulsa, Frederick Cornelius, of Muskogee, and his sweetheart, Miss Babbie Metcalf, of Tulsa, were drowned and James Lafferty and Frances Kemble had a narrow escape from drowning.

The boat capsized and Lafferty swam ashore with Miss Kemble. He returned for Cornelius and Miss Metcalf, but before he reached the spot where the boat capsized they had been drowned.

$40,000 for Sewers at Athens.

Athens, Ga., Sept. 4.—City Engineer Barnett will within the next few days start the work on the construction of the main sewer line through the northern and northwestern sections of the city. The city will spend on new sewers this year the sum of $40,000. When this is finished the city will be completely sewered in every section.

Jack Frost Visits Indians.

Indianapolis, Sept. 4.—Frost Wednesday night is reported from many points in Indiana, but no particular damage has been done.

TOM MIXSON IS AGAIN IN JAIL

Convicted for Toting a Pistol and Resisting an Officer.

CALLED OFFICER BAD NAMES

And as a Result of the Trouble Marshal Bryant Sustained Several Painful Teeth Wounds—Mixon Must Serve Another Term.

Tom Mixson, one of High Springs' well-known characters, is again behind the bars of the Alachua county jail upon a charge of carrying concealed weapons and resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty, and will now be compelled to serve three months in the county jail.

The prisoner, who is well-known to everybody in that section, was arraigned before Justice Bexley at High Springs Friday morning, when he received this sentence. He was fined $100 and costs or three months on the "gang," and, failing to raise the money, will be compelled to serve time. He does not mind to serve the time, apparently, as he was in a perfectly jovial mood when Marshal George Bryant landed with him in Gainesville Friday noon.

It is stated that young Mixson took a revolver belonging to his father out of a trunk in the room, when the parent made complaint. Mixson was apprehended by Marshal Bryant, who attempted to arrest him, but Mixson showed resistance. The revolver was found in the bosom of his shirt, however, and after a lively tussle, which was animated in every sense of the word, and after the marshal had been bitten in several places, the man was conquered and landed in the High Springs jail over night. The result of his trial the following morning is stated above.

Mixon is regarded by the good people of High Springs as one of the "bad ones," and has caused all sorts of trouble in that town. The people of High Springs are endeavoring to get rid of such characters, and will probably succeed after a lot of hard work.

Mixon is now in jail, and will no doubt be taken to the mines in a day or two.

A SUGGESTED IMPROVEMENT.

Court House Grounds Could be Materially Improved in Appearance.

Speaking of improving the appearance in both the court house grounds and the square, it has been suggested that the iron fence around the grounds be removed, the lawn elevated gradually from the sidewalk on each side, with an incline of say three feet from the base of the sidewalk to the court house walls.

While the lawn, which has been under the care of the faithful janitor, Moses Sherman, for the past three or four years, is already very handsome and the admiration and pride of the city, the presence of the fence around the premises has a tendency to deteriorate its beauty. With the suggestion named the grounds could be made more attractive at little cost, which would also make the square show off to much better advantage.

Captain Seagle Here Again.

Captain F. V. Seagle and daughter, Mrs. J. S. Bashaw, have returned from Lincolnton, N. C., where they have been on a visit to the former's brother, A. J. Seagle, whom he had not seen for many years. They report a most delightful and beneficial outing, to say nothing of the pleasure of the meeting between the two brothers.

Captain Seagle states that the weather has been fine with the exception of a few days, the temperature being so low that cover was conducive to comfort, and fires during the day were very acceptable.

Captain Seagle, who resides at West Palm Beach, where he is engaged in the hotel business, expects to leave for home Tuesday. He is one of Gainesville's pioneer citizens, and his numerous friends here are always glad to see him.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

J. F. Smith, the photographer and artist, has been busy for the past few days making exposures of plates for cuts for the booklet which the National Odd Fellows' Sanatorium proposes to issue. Yesterday he secured exterior and interior views of The Dutton Bank, as well as fine negatives of residences of Col. H. F. Dutton and W. B. Taylor.

After a pleasant sojourn in Old Fort, N. C., where they have spent the past few weeks, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Arnold are again at their home, 808 East Seminary street, where they will be glad to welcome their friends. They, like many others, experienced considerable delay in reaching Gainesville, owing to the damage resulting from the recent floods in South Carolina and Georgia, and express themselves as being glad to at last reach their destination.

The dental offices of Drs. Alderman & Pearce have been greatly improved in appearance within the past few days by the appearance of modern designs of wall paper, etc., and the office, which was before as neat as could be found in this section, is more inviting than ever. Drs. Alderman and Pearce are both well-known throughout this section, and their personal individuality, together with their modern office equipment, is bound to prove of great benefit to them in the profession.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Patterson are at home again, after a sojourn in the North for several weeks. Mr. Patterson went to Indianapolis on July 20 to accompany the remains of Mrs. Jesse Shaw, who died in Alachua, and he was joined later by his wife. They visited their daughter, Mrs. S. L. Cherry, in Terre Haute, Ind., and Mrs. Patterson also spent several days with relatives in Greenfield, Ohio. They enjoyed their trip very much, but declare the weather was such that they are glad to get back to Florida to keep cool.

HARD ROADS ASSURED IN THE WEST END

Right-of-Way Being Cleared Between Tyler and Trenton.

NEWBERRY AND TYLER ROAD

Large Force Now Engaged in Laying Rock, and Within Few Months Road May be Completed Between the Two Points—Citizens Active.

The good people of the West End having become thoroughly imbued with the good roads fever, are active in the matter of road-building at this time, with the result that within the next year that section of Alachua county will have her share of hard surfaced highways, if progress continues as it has done for the past month.

A few months ago the people of the Newberry precinct voted to make that district a sub-road, or special road district, which would enable them to construct hard roads from direct taxation of the people. As the best evidence that the move was a popular one, the question was carried almost unanimously, since which time preparations have been in order to begin work in earnest.

The road between Newberry and Trenton, which for years has been regarded as one of the very worst in the county, is now having attention. A large force is engaged in cutting right-of-way and laying rock between Newberry and Tyler, and people from that section report more than a mile of rock already laid.

The old road from Tyler to Trenton will be abandoned soon, as a new right-of-way is being opened between these points which will afford a much better source of travel, probably saving some distance.

The people of Newberry and Trenton are determined not to be outdone in the matter of good roads, and a wonderful revelation will be made within the next few months.

Might Have Hurt the Railroad.

Will Irwin, the writer, tells this one on himself, says Success:

"Riding recently in a parlor car, I fell asleep, and dreamed that I was being attacked by a band of train robbers. Springing to my feet, I leaped upon the nearest robber, grasping him around the neck and proceeded to pommel him. Suddenly awakening, I was covered with confusion, realizing that I was assaulting an inoffensive passenger of Hebrew extraction. I was attempting to stammer out my apologies, when he interrupted me with a cunning grin.

"That's all right," he responded, "it didn't hurt me. But," he added, in a confidential whisper, "if you had hurt me, do you think I could have got damages from the railroad company?"

TUCKER GINNEY TO START MONDAY

Everything in Readiness for Handling the Fleecy Staple Here.

SUCCESS IS ALREADY ASSURED

About Two Hundred Bales Already in Sight, Which Will Keep Ginn Busy for Some Time—Ginnery to be in Charge of W. C. Adamson.

The new ginnery of Mrs. Lois Tucker, recently installed on West Masonic street, expects to begin operation in earnest Monday morning, when quite a force will be employed. This will be gratifying information to the farmers of this section who raise cotton, as after the destruction of the Gordon gin by the fire during the latter part of last fall it looked as though there would be no such establishment again inaugurated here.

But Mrs. Tucker realized the necessity of a ginnery in Gainesville, as she studied the situation carefully, and to her energy is due the existence of another gin, which will prove of the greatest convenience and saving to the growers, who would have been compelled to make long hauls with their product, thereby entailing extra expense.

The ginnery will be under the supervision of W. C. Adamson, one of the most efficient ginmen in the State, and the outlook at present seems to be very encouraging. Already about two hundred bales of the fleecy staple has been assured, which will give the establishment steady work for some time, to say nothing of what will follow.

As little as it may seem at first thought, the ginning industry is a big one, as it not only makes an open market for cotton, bringing the farmers to Gainesville, but employs a number of hands as well.

While the Tucker ginnery is beginning on comparatively a small scale to the ginnery which was destroyed, indications are that the plant must be enlarged by another year.

HAD A FINE TRIP.

P. M. Oliver and G. W. Sanderson Returned from Two Weeks' Outing.

P. M. Oliver, the pioneer sportsman of this section, and G. W. Sanderson, have returned from a two-weeks' trip to Manatee Springs and Shell Mound, on the Gulf.

In speaking of the trip, these gentlemen state they never had a better time in their lives. They were well supplied with everything that goes to make an outing of this kind a success and a pleasure, and report that game and fish were abundant.

The trip was made overland, which was another appetizing and attractive feature.

Mrs. McCormick Writes That Her Goods Will be Strictly in Style.

In a letter to The Sun from Mrs. F. T. McCormick, the milliner, who is now in New York purchasing her fall and winter line, she states that she will purchase this season one of the largest and swellest lines of ladies' headwear to be found in the State, and without doubt the best line ever seen in Gainesville. She is taking special care in selecting only the latest creations, and, being in touch with the large millinery houses of the nation's metropolis, will be in position to give the ladies of Gainesville and vicinity the very latest. Mrs. McCormick expects to return in a few days.

Concluding her letter, Mrs. McCormick says:

"I think Gainesville can boast of the youngest millinery buyer in the United States, as Master Rayford McCormick, eight months old, is looking at the hats along with me, and everyone in the wholesale houses call him the youngest buyer. I think he can tell the ladies of Gainesville whether they should or should not wear the large hats when he returns, so tell them to wait and look for the best millinery Gainesville has ever known."

Friends of Mrs. McCormick will be pleased to learn that, notwithstanding a great deal of her time is occupied in making her selections, she is managing to have an enjoyable time.

Death Was in the Milk.

Dr. Romero, health officer of Jacksonville, is after impure and diseased milk in that city. He showed a bottle of milk to the city council, and this is what he said:

"In this bottle," said the Doctor, holding the gruesome object up in plain view, "there is not only enough tuberculosis germs to kill the strongest baby in a short time, but the drinking of it would also have a like effect on a strong man or woman. This bottle was found within three blocks of this place, and although I do not think tuberculosis is general among the dairies which sell milk in Jacksonville, it is but one of many illustrations of the necessity of making careful tests as often as possible."

A Handsome Park.

One of the handsomest places in the city, from a rustic point of view, is the private park of J. A. Goodwin, located at the corner of West Court and North Pleasant streets.

While this resort is nothing more than a large lot heavily wooded, it is really an attractive and inviting place, and would make an ideal playground for the children. It is understood that a petition will be circulated requesting Mr. Goodwin to open the park for the amusement of the little folks, and it is believed that the request will be granted, especially since the owner is very fond of children.

NEXT SEASON'S CROP WILL BE HEAVY ONE

Truckers Along Tampa and Jacksonville Railway Are Busy Preparing.

ACREAGE WILL BE VERY LARGE

Many Planters, Encouraged by Increasing Prosperity Outlook, Will Increase Acreage for Coming Crop, and Expect to Get Good Returns.

Indications from points along the Tampa and Jacksonville railway, between Gainesville and Fairfield, especially in the vicinity of Tacoma, Wacahoota and Rocky Point, are that the next crop of vegetables will be a large one, as all truckers are busily engaged in preparing their land, and many are making arrangements to plant an extensive acreage. This is probably due to the excellent good prices anticipated during next season, together with the fact that a larger acreage could be cultivated at comparatively small additional expense.

The last season's yield in this section was heavy, and the railroad was taxed to its utmost to handle the crop. Improvements will be made in the service, however, and transportation the coming season will be an easy matter.

A REMOVAL

and—THE REASON

This is to notify the public that we have removed our stock of Crockery, China and Glassware from the Graham building, 116 East Main street N., to our main stores, 120 E. Liberty street, where the entire upper floor will be devoted to this department.

This move will concentrate our business, and at the same time materially decrease our expenses. Taking into consideration these facts does it not look reasonable that we will now be in a position to sell this line at greatly reduced prices? That's the reason.

Come to our store, visit this department, and we will take pleasure in showing you the handsomest and most complete line ever seen in this town.

The Gainesville market is well supplied with luscious grapes of the Scuppernon variety. There is no finer grape grown and this section is especially adapted to them.

A good many people would rather have a second-hand automobile than to wait to be able to afford a new one. You may be able to dispose of yours through a want ad. in The Sun.

In the election in Vermont last Tuesday the Republicans lost eight per cent of their normal vote and the Democrats two per cent, while the candidates of the Independence League did not poll sufficient votes to be recognized in future as a political party.

The finest guavas ever seen in Gainesville were presented to the editor of The Sun last Thursday by Judge H. G. Mason. They were as large as the average sized Leont pear and of fine flavor. There is no necessity for sending to South Florida for guavas when they can be grown in your yard in Gainesville.

The Jacksonville authorities are determined that nothing but pure milk shall be sold in that city, no dairyman being permitted to do business who cannot show a certificate from the health authorities during the past year that his herd of cattle are free from tuberculosis. This is a good law, and such an ordinance should be enacted by the Gainesville board of aldermen. This is the era of pure food, and the purity of the milk we use is of as much, if not more, importance than any diet. What mother in Gainesville knows that she is not dieting her little darlings on milk from a cow afflicted with tuberculosis?

There have been so many arrests for cruelty to animals in New York that now a special day in the week is set aside to hear these cases exclusively. The authorities, however, declare that this is no sign cruelty is increasing in the metropolis; but, on the contrary, it indicates that humane sentiment is so much on the increase that many cases of cruelty are now taken up which before passed unnoticed. There is no doubt that this sentiment is spreading everywhere, and that communities are much the better for the curb placed on brutality of any kind. There is entirely too little attention paid to the cruelty to dumb animals in Gainesville, and The Sun has for years been unable to understand why some person with sympathy for the poor things has not organized a society for their protection.

NOT CRIMINALS.

It is the habit of persons to hold immigration responsible for the wide prevalence of crime in the country, says The Baltimore American, especially in the large centers. It is, therefore, interesting to note the comment of Judge Lindsey, of the Denver Juvenile Court: "I am not one of those who lay much stress upon immigration as a cause of crime in this country, whether adult or juvenile. My own investigation of police records has rather startled me by showing how few of our juvenile criminals are of foreign parentage." He then goes on to say that more minors with foreign names may find themselves in the court, but this fact is due to poverty and ignorance and not a crime.

This is a most interesting statement. If the deductions of the Denver judge are true, then other cause must be found for crime, particularly among the young. The only satisfactory explanation is that furnished by the decline of home discipline. The youth do not receive the correction and the guidance of their parents necessary for them to have until they arrive at the age of reflection. A United States Senator, in deploring the entrance of the State into the sphere of the home, by passing laws regulating the habits of the youth, declared that no amount of law could take the place of salutary administration of the birch switch or the handy slipper.

Students of crime, whether in the higher or lower strata of society, allege that it is largely due to unfortunate home conditions. In the one case the child is pampered and spoiled by indulgent parents; in the other it is neglected or abused or sent out early into the world to make a livelihood. The latter situation is not so deplorable, many children being benefited by employment, if it were not that they are deprived of adequate education, recreation and physical stimulation.

Cities are giving much attention and money to the care of children, not in a way that tends to lessen but strengthen domestic responsibility. The playgrounds and the kindergarten, the free baths and the juvenile courts are all factors in molding the characters of the youth that tend to make parents feel greater personal interest in their children. These agencies are already beginning to tell for the development of a stronger type of character. But they do not bear upon the children of the rich, who are pampered during the years when their characters should be receiving tonic. President Roosevelt is not too urgent or frequent in his exhortations to the wealthy to train their children in sturdy principles.

Says The Ocala Star: "Dr. S. H. Blitch, by special request of Commissioner McLin, visited the State convict camp hospital of the S. A. Rawls Co., who have charge of the State convicts, at Quincy. He found the camp in splendid condition and the sixty inmates receiving the best of attention. He said the company has put up an excellent building with all up-to-date improvements, electric lights, sewerage, etc., and no one anywhere is better treated than a prisoner in this camp, which is not only a credit to the State, but also to the lessees of them, that shows it is not all commercialism that enters into their contract with the State. While the convict lease system is not perfect and never will be, we do sincerely believe the lessees are doing their duty nobly, manfully and thoroughly in their treatment of the Florida State convicts."

BRADLEY LEADS IN MICHIGAN.

Has Plurality of Over 1,000 in Race for Governor.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 4.—Returns received by the Detroit Free Press give Auditor General J. B. Bradley, a lead of 1,122 votes over Governor Fred M. Warner, for the republican nomination for governor. With seventy election districts still missing out of a total of 2,015 in the state, the vote stands

Bradley 96,092, Warner 84,960, H. S. Earle 24,931.

Of the missing districts eighteen are in Leelanaw and Osceola counties, where it is understood the vote is exceedingly close. The remaining fifty-three districts are scattered through the state and may reduce Bradley's plurality over Warner to about 1,000 votes, when the official count is known.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Herbine makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FLORIDA NEWS..

The new Stachelberg cigar factory in Tampa, which has just been completed, began operation Tuesday with cigar makers. The force will be increased to materially next week.

Work on Jacksonville's new ten-story skyscraper will begin within next ten days. The contract for erection of the building has been awarded to a firm in New York. The architect calls for the completion of building within ten months.

Twenty happy little children, inmates of the Daniel Memorial Orphanage, in Jacksonville, left that city yesterday morning for Pablo Beach, where they will remain until October. No doubt, one of the jolliest riding parties that has been there this summer.

Jacksonville is to have a new five-story hotel, to be located on the southwest corner of Laura and Ashley streets. The new hotel will be known as the Laura-Ashley and will be modern in every respect. It is to be constructed of white pressed brick and cost $100,000.

A "back ordinance" which has been up before the city council of Jacksonville from time to time for the past ten years, has been passed. The rules are quite stringent and set a price for transfer of passengers and freight between the hours of 11 a. m. and midnight.

G. S. Fletcher of Quincy, so far as is known, has made the largest crop of tobacco per acre. Mr. Fletcher, who is a resident of Quincy, has harvested, sold and delivered 6,103 pounds of tobacco from four acres of land. It was of a very fine grade and quality and was sold to the Hinson Tobacco Company of Jacksonville, at forty cents a pound.—Gadsden County Times.

Prices of lumber have already advanced above what they were a short time ago and sawmill men are expecting soon to be able to set their prices on lumber. A meeting of the lumber dealers of South Florida will be held in Tampa, Thursday next week, to discuss the situation in the State and they may agree upon an advance. The market seems rather unsettled yet in Florida.—South Georgia.—Times-Union.

Attorneys representing the Key Cigar Manufacturing Association have started suit against one of the largest cigar dealers in Philadelphia for the fraudulent use of the name of Key West on cigars sold by him. This will probably be a test case and Mr. Sidney Perry, an attorney who has charge of the prosecution.

Osborn Herndon, the fourteen-year-old son of E. H. Herndon of this city, is destined to become the champion swimmer of this section before many years. The other day he started from the Walker fish house near the city dock and swam across the lake to Enterprise. He was accompanied by a boat and after covering the entire distance of five miles was strong enough to clamber into the boat and expressed a willingness to swim back over the course. Several men have covered this distance, but Osborn is the first lad of fourteen years to undertake the feat and The Herald will award him the championship medal.—Sanford Herald.

JONESVILLE DEAD, YET ALIVE.

Jonesville, Sept. 4.—Long ago Jonesville begun to struggle under difficulties and has slowly but surely let light shine where darkness has prevailed.

She has a pastor whom we all realize has had quite a sad experience with laboring under difficulties for the past two months. Bro. Taylor has stood faithfully by the fevered brow of his loving wife for some time, and while he is away we pray for him, and strive to make his church more becoming when once again he can return. We are going to give a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pickett on Tuesday evening, 10th of September, where many kinds of refreshments (punch, ice cream, etc.) will be served. The refreshments are to be furnished by members of Jonesville church and friends. The funds will be given for repairs, painting, etc., of the church, which has been long in need of repairs. All are invited who will attend, and if you can possibly get here will insure pleasure supreme, with an endowment policy of eatables. Girls, bring your boys and it can be left to decide who had the nicest time and drank the most punch by the fortunate lady who wins the cake. She makes an extemporaneous speech on a subject given by her escort.

Jonesville is only visiting Slumberland and will be awake at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night. A MEMBER.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Will Grant No Wage Increase.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 4.—Following the strike of about five hundred union painters in New Orleans, the Master Painters' association met Wednesday night and decided that not only would no increase in wages be granted, but that they would in future conduct their business on an open shop basis. Many strike breakers are here from northern cities.

FALL FASHIONS.

Suggestions for Dainty Attire for School Girls.

There must always be a good-looking tailored suit that can be worn with a lingerie waist or a pretty silk blouse for church, shopping, matinees and informal teas in the wardrobe of the schoolgirl, says The September Delineator. The little girls wear straight plaited skirts with bretelles or suspenders, and double-breasted box-coats that are childish looking in spite of being tailor made.

The older girls wear the smart single-breasted coats with a pointed outline at the bottom, which gives the figure a graceful little dip. The plaited skirt is prettier than the gored one for this kind of a suit. If the autumn tailor-made is to be worn again in the spring, choose a color that will look well in warm weather; navy or royal blue is good for either season—so is golden brown or smoke-gray or a pretty check.

For every-day wear throughout the school year, there is nothing prettier for a girl, whether she is eight or eighteen, than the regulation sailor suit in dark blue serge. In fact, many boarding-schools require it during school hours, and the effect produced by it when it is worn by all students is very pretty.

For the warm days in the autumn and the long stretch of hot weather in May and June, a girl should have plenty of simple tub dresses. Even the six and eight-cent wash fabrics make up prettily and keep a girl sweet and fresh-looking, without involving any great expense. The princess or semi-princess jumper dresses and the separate jumper joined under a belt to a pretty skirt are the neatest kinds of dresses.

For rainy days there should be a walking skirt, a flannel waist or two and a long storm-coat. There is the sweater or jersey for outdoor sports, and the gymnasium suit required by most schools. These things complete the list of the ordinary daytime outfit.

For the dinner hour, white serge or cloth, etamines and volles in pale blues and pinks, or dainty Dresden silks, make appropriate little dresses that can be worn fall, winter and spring. These dresses need not represent any great expenditure—in fact, they should be most simple, and their beauty should lie in their daintiness and freshness. The younger children will need a greater supply than the older girls, for they are always meeting with calamities. On the other hand, the older girl will need an evening wrap, a pretty dancing frock or two of batiste or tulle, as well as a suitable reception dress. There are dances and promenades, glee club concerts and formal dinners, that will require pretty dresses from time to time during the year. The more complete the outfit, the keener will be the girl's enjoyment of her school life.

GEN. HAMPTON'S OLD BODY SERVANT

Dies At Interlachen, Aged One Hundred and Nine Years.

HE WAS A NATIVE-BORN AFRICAN

Uncle Hampton Was One of the Very Few Genuine Ex-African Slaves and Was Imported from Africa When Quite Young.

Interlachen, Sept. 4.—On August 30, there passed away one of the few remaining survivors of genuine African ex-slaves, when "Uncle Hampton" (as he has always been known in this vicinity) died at the home of his son in the country near here, at the age of 109. Hampton was born in the last years of the eighteenth century, imported from Africa when quite young, and was for a number of years kept on a slave-ship and employed as a decoy to lure others of his race where they could be captured and carried to this country. Later he was one of the slaves of Gen. Wade Hampton, his "body servant" he termed himself, and he remained in the service of Gen. Hampton until the negroes were given their freedom. The year he crossed the century mark, he celebrated by clearing an acre of land, and planting and caring for a crop of sweet potatoes, and it is only within the past two years that he has been helplessly dependent. He was a negro of rare intelligence and industry, and, with a memory reaching back through so many years, could tell many tales of wonderful interest, of times when history was making fast and furiously.

Then watch it closely. And above all things don't let it suffer for any length of time with worms—that is fatal. The only cure that never fails and has no bad effects. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Salute in Honor of Wright.

Fort Valley, Kans., Sept. 3.—At rev. nine Wednesday morning a salute of seventeen guns was fired in honor of Secretary of War Luke E. Wright, who, with his party, is visiting the post here. When the secretary reached the maneuver camp at 7:30 o'clock another salute of seventeen guns was fired. A spectacular program was arranged at the camp for the day. Five thousand regulars, with two regiments of Iowa National Guards and a regiment from South Dakota, took part in the attack and defense of Junction City.

Two Brothers Drown Themselves.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 3.—Becoming financially involved, two brothers, Ben Woolaver, aged thirty-six, and Elmer, aged thirty-nine, drowned themselves in the Sangamon river not far from their homes, near Edinburg.

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble, as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Must Have Had Experience.

"Never mind, dear," he said reassuringly as she raised her sweet face from his shoulder and they both saw the white hair on his coat; "it will all brush off."

"Oh, Charlie," she burst out, sobbing, hiding her face again upon his white shoulder, "how do you know?"—Savannah Journal.

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. J. W. McCollum & Co.

"The Blood Is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist doesn't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

SAVED BY A LASSO.

On Brink of Precipice Man Rescued from Death by Friend.

San Bernardino, Cal., Sept. 4.—Archie L. Banks, a prominent resident of Philadelphia, was saved from instant death by William Rogers, of New York, in a most remarkable manner in the mountains near here.

A party of four—James Archer, of London; William Rogers, and Robert Siza of New York, and Mr. Banks—were riding on one of the slopes of the San Bernardino range.

Banks' horse slipped and his rider rolled down an embankment toward a precipice. At the very brink he grasped a small bush, which was about to give way under the strain, when there was a swish of a lasso and the imperiled man found himself encircled by a rope, thrown with unerring aim by Rogers. With the exception of a few bruises and a severe nervous shock, Banks was uninjured.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

and His Own Body to Stop a Leak in a Ferryboat.

morning in January, when the Hudson river ran unusually low, a Hoboken ferryboat slowly and her way through the floating ice, until the thickness of the pack of her paddles in midriver. It was a morning trip, and the decks crowded with laboring men and women and children standing inside the hulls were a solid mass up to the knees in ice. While she was gathering strength for a further effort and sheered to avoid her, veered and crashed into her side, cutting below the water line in a V shaped gash. A moment more and the disabled boat careened from side and fell over on her beam, into the V shaped gash she poured a torrent. It seemed but minutes before she would be heading below the ice.

in 200 yards of both boats and the heavy ice steamed the wrecking company, and on her forward stood Captain Scott. The ocean tug reversed her engine after the collision and backed of the shattered wheelhouse of the ferryboat he sprang forward, stooping, ran his eye along the water line in a flash every shattered beam and before the astonished crowd could catch his breath pushed the disabled boat along the rail of the ferryboat and dropped upon the deck like a cat.

a threat to throw overboard who stirred he dropped into the room, met the engineer half-way the ladder, compelled him to drag the mattresses from the bunks, stripped off blankets, washed up clothes, overalls, coats and rags of carpet, crammed them into the great rent left by the cutwater.

useless. Little by little the gained, bursting out first below, on one side, only to be calked out and only to rush in once more.

his Scott stood a moment as if dead, ran his eye searchingly over the room, saw that for his needs empty, then deliberately tore the top wall calking he had so carefully built up and before the engine could protest forced his own into the gap, with his arm outside with the drifting ice.

hour later the disabled ferryboat with every soul on board, was into the Hoboken slip.

they lifted the captain from the deck he was unconscious and alive. The water had frozen his and the floating ice had torn the from his protruding arm from wrist to wrist. When the color began to creep back to his cheeks he said to the doctor winding the bandages: "Any of them babies hurt?"

A Lesson in Patience.

Outreasoning Reason.

Raymond's mother had told him she should put him to bed if he disobeyed her command in a certain matter. Temptation overcame him when his mother proceeded to her duty and he fled.

Raymond," said the mother "I told you I should punish you if you disobeyed, and now you must keep her word, you see."

PARIS CABBIES.

The War of Words That Comes When They Block Each Other.

There is no more entertaining way to spend an idle hour in Paris than to get into a taxicab and instruct the driver to go along some street where you will be reasonably sure to get into a jam or to bump against another cab. The charm of the experience is, of course, enhanced by your ignorance of what the cabbies say.

Should your driver merely graze the wheels of another cab he will turn on his seat and yell mellifluously at the other driver, who in turn will shout back an assortment of vowels. But the best is a quarrel between two cabbies obstructing each other's way. The conversation, translated as nearly literally as is safe, goes in this wise:

"Sacred name! Why do you?"

"Holly blue! I do not!"

"Stomach on the ground! You have the face of an ox!"

"Blue stomach! Are you in chains?"

"A bas! Name of a dog!"

"Mon Dieu! Name of a pig!"

"Wow (or words to that effect) Name of a name!"

"A thousand deaths! Name of a name of a name!"

Now you begin to expect some doings. While you have not fully understood, you are satisfied that nothing but pistols and knives will wipe out the insults.

Unfortunately about this time the jam is untangled and you are allowed to drive away, but the other driver yells after you:

"Aha! You are a little piece of brown soap!"

It seems that this expression is the "fighting name" in Paris. Were it not that your cabbie owes a duty to you and must convey you to your destination you know by his facial expression that he would climb down and get that other cabbie and maul up the city with him.

He contents himself with turning about and making a face in the direction of his enemy and of going through the motion of spitting at him.

Then he says "Yoop!" to the horse, and the war is over.—Chicago Post.

THATCHING.

The Ancient Art in the Low Countries and in England.

Once upon a time two amateur botanists were hunting bog mosses on Exmoor, on the confines of the land of Lorna Doone. About the hour of luncheon they found that their enthusiasm had led them far afield, a good hour and a half from the farmhouse which they had made their temporary headquarters. The only place which yielded promise of food was a shepherd's shack half a mile distant, so thither they went. That the shack, or, rather, its owner, a small, wiry, dark man with curly hair, could offer nothing better than brown bread, which was woefully "chit," or heavy, and raw onions is neither here nor there. The point was that the roof of the shack was artistically thatched with layers of plaited reeds.

"Feyther taught I th' way to do an," explained the shepherd, with an upward jerk of his thumb toward the roof. "An' his feyther taught 'im avore that, an' his feyther avore that, an' back an' back twill nobody can think."

"A hereditary art evidently," said one of the moss hunters to his companion. "But I never saw thatches like these outside of the Low Countries. Safe bet that this fellow is of Dutch descent." Then he said to the man of Devon, "And what is your name, may I ask?"

"Well," replied the shepherd, "most folk call I Van, but ma right name be Henry Van Torp. They do say that ma gurt-grandfeather were a vittin' against England an' were took prisoner an' married a Devon girl an' settled 'ereabout"—he indicated the southward sweep of the moor—"but these be a lot of foolish tales to ma thinkin'."—Craftsman.

A Town of Macs.

Scotsmen are remarkably successful as colonists. They are also very clanish. There are many prosperous settlements in Greater Britain where Caledonians largely predominate, but the names of these localities do not carry that fact on their face. Nobody, however, can be mistaken as to the prevailing nationality in "Macaville." This is a town in the Cobalt district of Nova Scotia. You will be perfectly safe in accosting anybody there thus: "I say, Mac."—London Chronicle.

EVERY NON-PROGRESSIVE MERCHANT BECOMES

Your Competitor

When You Cease to Advertise Aggressively

WHEN a merchant "slows up" in his advertising, and concludes to "save a little money" in that direction, then the merchant who never had the courage and foresight to advertise adequately BECOMES A REAL COMPETITOR. Even the merchant who never advertises at all reaps a certain amount of profit from the "slowing up" process of the live store.

Not many merchants, of course, who have at any time set the pace for progressive advertising, will be content to take a backward plunge into the company of the non-progressives, of the LITTLE MERCHANTS, the easily satisfied ones, the un-awakes! But that is just what the "live one" does when he imagines that his advertising is costing too much, and that its curtailment means "saving."

If business conditions ever suggest retrenchment in advertising, the wise merchant knows that this should be interpreted as a signal for "full speed ahead" for redoubled efforts to WIN the business that does not come so easily as usual.
